The first season of Quantico was definitely a rollercoaster. But somehow I give it a 9/10.

Quantico is a FBI cop show. In the show the first season revolves around the main character being accused as a terrorist. She tries to prove everyone wrong but does she really?

I would suggest watching it with someone, so you have someone to rant with. I prefer either your best friend or your partner.

This TV series has so many up and downs that you'll love every single second of it. It shows the characters past and the present.

Would suggest 100% to watch it.
